

OUR NATIVE HAWAIIAN WILDLIFE

Princeville is the only place in the world where Laysan albatross, wedge-tailed shearwaters and all four endangered native Hawaiian wetland birds nest amongst a human population.

You can kōkua (assist) our native wildlife. Keep dogs leashed, keep pet cats indoors, and always refrain from feeding feral cats. Turn off outdoor lights October through December. Never ever feed wildlife. Just stand back and give them space to co-exist with us.

For more information and to learn how you can help, visit the Kauaʻi Wildlife Coalition and Friends of Kauaʻi Wildlife Refuges online.

Laysan Albatross (mōlī)

Hawaiian Goose (nēnē)

Hawaiian Coot (ʻālae keʻokeʻo)

Pacific Golden-Plover (kōlea)

Hawaiian Stilt (aeʻo)

Wedge-tailed shearwater (ʻuaʻu kani)

Hawaiian Gallinule (ʻālae ʻula)

Hawaiian Duck (koloa maoli)